

Quality and Occupational Health and Safety Policy

The management of ATP System, represented by Mr. Olivier AMELINE, is now engaged in a certification process in the fields of quality and health and safety at work in order to meet the expectations of the ISO 9001 and 45001 standards. As such, ATP System commits itself to respect the applicable requirements of these last ones.

To meet these expectations, we have oriented our strategy towards better management of the quality of our services and to be fully attentive to our customers in order to improve their satisfaction. Concerning health and safety at work, we wish to guarantee our customers the durability of the trust they already had in us in terms of Health and Safety at Work with the MASE certification. To do this, we are setting up a management system built according to the architecture of the ISO 9001 (Quality) and ISO 45001 (Occupational Health and Safety) standards. We are therefore committed to a system operation based on continuous improvement favouring a perpetual questioning and verification of the efficiency of our committed actions.

The management of ATP System has made known to the entire staff its wishes for strategic development, as well as the need for each member of the company to be involved in this process. We are committed to consulting our staff on various subjects affecting the life of the company, we are also committed to encouraging our staff to increase their level of involvement in the company and their interest in carrying the company's values in terms of Quality, Health and Safety at Work and the Environment on a daily basis.
